

Technology available for licensing: BetterClouds

BetterClouds is an Intelligent Workload Manager that compares the cost, performance, and time to deliver the output of various workloads. Its purpose is to provide the user with the optimal solution for cloud computing taking into account a diverse set of infrastructure variables.

- Realistic and economical cloud computing solution for working with all different data types and programming languages.
- A multi-cloud compatible management platform serving container based applications.

Contact: partners@anl.gov